Monitor arm

Monitor arms facilitate the easy repositioning of the monitor to accommodate changing tasks and different users

upCentric™ height adjustable table

An electric height adjustable table accommodates different tasks, postures and users and encourages movement throughout the day. The height range should accommodate the user's sitting and standing preferences.

Anti-fatigue mat

Consider using an anti-fatigue mat which cushions your feet and encourages subtle movement of the leg and calf muscles to enhance circulation.

Footrest

A footrest allows you to make standing less static by allowing you to change positions.
